FamilyWorks serves families in North Seattle who have been marginalized by food, economic, and racial injustice. With two Food Banks, a newly opened Family Resource Center, a growing list of mobile and satellite service locations, and a vast network of community partners, we provide meaningful and culturally responsive services to more than 5,000 households each year.

Please call or email us if you have any questions about enrolling in our programs or accessing services on site. We'd love to meet you!
